

Grundrisse - A Map like Spinoza's Ethics (1879, After Paris Commune)
By Karl Marx

Introduction

Why Grundrisse is finally the uprooting of capitals, even money all of that and its replacement in fact by materialism of all types like say a company is capital, its replacement by a machine or orrey printing books is materialist - I mean some idealism added, this is pure Communism.

I. Against the Paris Commune - a Few Dictats

In fact the protest and fused participation of working classes just becomes a government of the people and disbands. One should then imagine a party winning, applying Grundrisse and forming Communism instead and repeating this Commune aspect again and again perhaps.

II. Spinoza compared to Grundrisse - not Hegel which is capitalism

Material things - tables, housing, computers (fragment aspect) and even photocopying.

I call this materialist principles only not idealist principles which is the Hegelianising one does, like lighting or such ideal fancy.

Material developments, architecture, perhaps idealizing in Hegelianism.

Labouring, and reading culture.

Map this way -

Axiom - Materialist things, culture, developments in more detail and ensemble like complex dynamics of protest and party lining.

Definition - Material developments only

Postulate - Hegelian idealism.